Note: In the matters of the Court of Appeals cases Town of Dryden and Town of Middlefield the Court wrote:

“We are asked in these two appeals whether towns may ban oil and gas production activities, including hydrofracking, within municipal boundaries through the adoption of local zoning laws. We conclude that they may because the supersession clause in the statewide Oil, Gas and Solution Mining Law (OGSML) does not preempt the home rule authority vested in municipalities to regulate land use. The order of the Appellate Division should therefore be affirmed”
